BIOGRAPHY

Wagner Dias da Silva is a corporate lawyer with a broad-based commercial transactions and corporate and securities practice. He has counseled clients in connection with private placements and public offerings of equity securities, mergers and acquisitions, securities law compliance, corporate governance, and a broad range of other commercial transactions. Wagner also has considerable experience working with registered investment companies and investment advisors.

His specific experience in the area of corporate and securities law includes handling private placements of securities offerings, assisting clients with SEC reporting and compliance, drafting asset purchase and sales agreements, drafting investment company registration statements, negotiating service provider agreements, and leading meetings of boards of directors.

Prior to entering the University of Oklahoma, Wagner attended law school at Universidade Presbiteriana Mackenzie, Faculdade de Direito, in his hometown of Sao Paulo, Brazil. His career experience includes working as a certified translator and interpreter (Portuguese/English) and as an English instructor to Brazilian business executives.

He is fluent in Portuguese and proficient in Spanish.
