BIOGRAPHY

Giannina Marin is a transactional attorney whose practice is focused in the areas of wealth planning/tax and healthcare law.

Giannina graduated first in her class from the University of Florida Levin College of Law in December 2008. While in law school, she served as an intern for the Honorable Juan R. Torruella of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, as well as a research assistant to Robert Emerson, Professor of Legal Studies, and as a teaching assistant in Appellate Advocacy and Legal Research and Writing. Giannina received Book Awards in Constitutional Law, Evidence, Property, and Wills and Trusts.

Giannina's wealth planning tax practice focuses on estate planning and estate and trust administration. She assists clients in developing strategies for managing and transferring property that achieves their goals during their lifetimes and upon their deaths using simple or complex wills, revocable trusts and irrevocable trusts. Giannina also advises clients regarding the applicability of the estate tax, gift tax and generation skipping transfer tax and provides continuity to clients by assisting in estate administration, including trust administration and contested and uncontested probate matters.

Giannina's healthcare practices involves advising health care providers regarding compliance with state and federal requirements, including HIPAA compliance and Medicare and Medicaid conditions of participation and billing requirements. She counsels providers on physician employment arrangements and provides drafting, review and analysis of contracts.

Her achievements have earned her inclusion in Oklahoma Super Lawyers' list of "Oklahoma Rising Stars," which recognizes the state's top up-and-coming attorneys. In 2011, The Journal Record named Giannina to its list of "Achievers Under 40."

Born and raised in San Juan, Puerto Rico, she is fluent in Spanish as well as Italian.
