Overview

Rhonda Bennett brings more than 20 years of valuable experience and insight working in the aviation industry to her role as a Federal Aviation Administration paralegal. As a direct liaison between the firm's Aviation Group attorneys and the FAA, she is responsible for preparing the title work on aircraft engines and propellers for closings, ordering and researching FAA records, providing attorneys with the necessary documentation to efficiently handle aircraft transactions, and filing documents for public record with the FAA.

Prior to joining McAfee & Taft in 2004, Rhonda worked as an examiner and served on the board of directors of Dixie Aire Title Service, an Oklahoma City-based aircraft title company.

Rhonda is an active member of Eagle Heights Church in Oklahoma City, volunteers in her church's pre-school department, and is a sponsor of the Oklahoma Children's Acting Guild. In addition, she also previously served on the parents committee of the FAA's non-profit daycare center.
